

Global Food Manufacturer

Challenge One: Lack of transparency

My Energy Consultants provided greater transparency and expertise in the working relationship compared to previous consultancies, particularly when sending analysis from suppliers.

“ My Energy Consultants have always been transparent when it comes to sharing data with us. They are also happy to bring suppliers into discussions for open dialogue which is fairly unique. ”

Challenge Two: Journey to Net Zero

As with most manufacturers, this customer was exploring green energy projects.

Reviewing a solar power project, My Energy Consultants found the proposal being considered was based on old technology.

The Solution - Project Management

Our recommendations resulted in optimised and more efficient technology being deployed, cost savings on project implementation and a far shorter return on their investment.

We also supported with a large CHP project at a site in Wales. This project balanced the manufacturers power while also supporting local energy infrastructure. This aspect was key as the customer's operation was one of the largest consumers of energy in the area.

My Energy Consultants helped them reduce their oil usage by 90%. Not only did this save money but we also helped them avoid ongoing, unnecessary network costs.

By analysing data and identifying areas of high consumption, My Energy Consultants also assisted optimising usage at one of the customer's effluent plants. By adapting the method for chemical waste processing and monitoring consumption data, the manufacturer reduced consumption and made further cost savings.

“ My Energy Consultants are always available and that's to anyone in our business, not just the principle contact. We now use My Energy Consultants as a sounding board and Procurement won't answer any questions about power without first speaking to them. ”

Challenge Three: Billing error

Our bill checking service found a discrepancy. An investigation found the customer had been billed for the wrong meter over a long period of time. My Energy Consultants recovered the significant overspend from the supplier which went straight onto the customer's bottom line.

“ We've always prided ourselves on staying at the forefront of future developments in the business energy industry. We don't just help companies find the best energy deals, we become your partner to help you reduce energy wastage, meet energy legislation obligations and handle your utility infrastructure projects. ”

Khaled Osman,
Sales and Service Director,
My Energy Consultants

Would you like to know more about our services?

0203 488 3000

info@myenergyconsultants.co.uk

www.myenergyconsultants.co.uk